The Energy Awareness qualification helps you to learn more about domestic energy use and where people can make savings. It equips you to give face-to-face energy advice that will help your clients cut the cost of their energy bills. The qualification is recognised in the Code of Practice for Energy Efficiency Advice.

The course will run from 3-7th/8th October, Charlotte Street, Glasgow.

If you have any queries about this course, please contact Eddie Conaghan, Course Coordinator, the Wise Group, 07540 719654

The discount and associated coordination by Community Energy Scotland is only available if a minimum of 8 people sign up. This is a great opportunity to get a recognised qualification to deliver project work.

The course will be delivered by accredited City and Guilds training provider, the Wise Group.

Cost of attending the course (including the examination and refreshments) will be £380 plus VAT per person (full cost for individual attendees would be £480 plus VAT).
